Map of North Carolina.

THIS desirable Work, which has been unavoidably delayed, is now progressing, and will probably be completed in the course of the ensuing winter. Those gentlemen who have been kind enough to undertake the correction of the Maps of their respective counties, and who have not yet found it convenient to do so, are respectfully solicited to give the matter a moment of their attention as soon as may be convenient.

From the specimens of correctness which those Maps that have been received in most instances afford, the public may be assured that a more correct Map of the State will be obtained by the means pursued than by any other that could have been adopted. In many instances entire Maps of the different counties have been made out with great labour, and no doubt with as much accuracy.

To those gentlemen from whom the corrected Maps have been received, the subscriber begs leave to return his grateful acknowledgments.

THE LOVERS.

To a man who is a little of a philosopher, and a Bachelor to boot, and who, by dint of some experience in the follies of life, begins to look with a learned eye upon the ways of man and eke of woman—to such a man, I say, there is something very entertaining in noticing the conduct of a pair of young lovers. It may not be as grave and scientific a study as the loves of the plants, but it is certainly as interesting. I have therefore derived much pleasure since my arrival at the Hall, from observing the fair Julia and her lover. She has all the delightful blushing consciousness of an artless girl, inexperienced in coquetry, who has made her first conquest—while the Captain regards her with that mixture of fondness and exultation with which a youthful lover is apt to contemplate so beauteous a prize. I observed them yesterday in the garden advancing along one of the retired walks. The sun was shining with delicious warmth, making great masses of bright verdure and deep blue shade. The cuckoo, that harbinger of spring, was faintly heard from a distance; the thrush piped from the hawthorn, and the yellow butterflies sported, and toyed, and coquetted in the air. The fair Julia was leaning on her lover's arm, listening to his conversation, with her eyes cast down, a soft blush upon her cheek, and a quiet smile on her lips; while in the hand that hung negligently by her side was a bunch of flowers.—In this way they were sauntering slowly along, and when I considered them, and the scene in which they were moving, I could not but think it a thousand pities that the season should ever change, or that young people should ever grow old, or that blossoms should give way to fruit, or that lovers should ever get married.

Harmony.—The members of Mr. Owen's society have issued proposals for publishing a new paper, to be called "The Harmony Gazette." It is to be chiefly devoted to a development of the principles of the "Social System."

During the quarter ending on the 30th June last, nearly 25 millions of pounds of raw cotton were exported from the port of New York. The total amount of exports for the quarter, from the same port, amounted to nearly 8 millions of dollars.

On the day of the Eclipse, when all the inhabitants of Paris were without doors, provided with telescopes, and pieces of smoked glass, an Englishman was seen driving furiously in a coach along one of the principal streets. "Where does my Lord wish to go,' said the driver; 'To see the Eclipse,' said the Englishman, thrusting his head out of the window, 'only drive up to it as near as possible, for I am short sighted.'

A countryman going into the office in Doctors Commons, where all the wills are kept, was surprised to see such a number of large volumes, and inquired if they were Bibles? "No, Sir," replied one of the clerks, "they are Testaments."

PROCLAMATION TO THE JEWS.

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God, to manifest to his chosen people the approach of that period when, in fulfilment of the promises made to the race of Jacob, and as a reward for their pious constancy and triumphant fidelity, they are to be gathered from the four quarters of the globe, and to resume their rank and character among the governments of the earth: And whereas the peace which now prevails among civilized nations, the progress of learning throughout the world, and the general spirit of liberality and toleration which exists, together with other changes, favorable to light and to liberty, mark in an especial manner the approach of that time when "peace on earth and good will to man" are to prevail with a benign and extended influence, and the ancient people of God, the first to proclaim his unity and omnipotence, are to be restored to their inheritance, and enjoy the rights of a sovereign independent people: Therefore, I, MORDECAI MANUEL NOAH, Citizen of the United States of America, late Consul of the said States for the city and kingdom of Tunis, High Sheriff of New York, Counsellor at Law, and, by the grace of God, Governor and Judge of Israel, have issued this my proclamation—

Announcing to the Jews throughout the world, that an asylum is prepared and hereby offered to them, where they can enjoy that peace, comfort and happiness, which has been denied them, through the intolerance and misgovernment of former ages: an asylum in a free and powerful country, where ample protection is secured to their persons, their property, and religious rights; an asylum in a country remarkable for its vast resources, the richness of its soil, and the salubrity of its climate; where industry is encouraged, education promoted, and good faith rewarded; "a land of milk and honey," where Isreal may repose in peace, under his "vine and fig tree," and where our people may so familiarize themselves with the science of government, and the lights of learning and civilization, as may qualify them for that great and final restoration to their ancient heritage, which the times so powerfully indicate.

The asylum referred to is in the state of New York, the greatest state in the American Confederacy. New York contains 43,214 square miles, divided into fifty-five counties, and having six hundred and eighty-seven post towns and cities, containing one million five hundred thousand inhabitants, together with six million acres of land, improvements in agriculture and manufactures, in trade and commerce, which includes a valuation of three hundred millions of dollars of taxable property; one hundred and fifty thousand militia, armed and equipped, a constitution founded upon an equality of rights; having no test oaths, and recognizing no religious distinctions, and seven thousand free schools and colleges, affording the blessings of education to four hundred thousand children of every religious denomination. Such is the great and increasing state to which the emigration of the Jews is directed.

The desired spot in the state of New York, to which I hereby invite my beloved people throughout the world, in common with those of every religious denomination, is called GRAND ISLAND, and on which I shall lay the foundation of a City of Refuge, to be called ARARAT.

Grand Island, in the Niagara river, is bounded by Ontario on the north, and Erie on the south, and within a few miles of each of those great commercial lakes. The island is nearly twelve miles in length, and varying from three to seven miles in breadth, and contains upwards of seventeen thousand acres of remarkably rich and fertile land. Lake Erie is about two hundred and seventy miles in length, and borders on the states of New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio; and westwardly by the possessions of our friends and neighbors, the British subjects of Upper Canada. This splendid lake unites itself by means of navigable rivers, with lakes of St. Clair, Huron, Michigan and Superior, embracing a lake shore of nearly three thousand miles; and, by short canals, those vast sheets of water will be connected with the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, thereby establishing a great & valuable internal trade to New Orleans and the Gulf of Mexico.—Lake Ontario, to the north, is one hundred and ninety miles in length, and empties into the St. Lawrence, which passes through the Province of Lower Canada, carrying the commerce of Quebec and Montreal to the Atlantic Ocean.

Thus fortified to the right and left, by the extensive commercial resources of the great lakes, and their tributary streams—within four miles of the sublime Falls of Niagara, affording the greatest water power in the world for manufacturing purposes—directly opposite the mouth of the grand canal, of three hundred and sixty miles inland navigation, to the Hudson river, and city of New York, having the fur trade of Upper Canada to the west, and also of the great territories towards the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific Ocean; likewise the trade of the Western States of America, Grand Island may be considered as surrounded by every commercial, manufacturing, and agricultural advantage, and from its location is pre-eminently calculated to become, in time, the greatest trading and commercial depot in the new and better world. To men of worth and industry it has every substantial attraction; the capitalist will be enabled to employ his resources with undoubted profit, and the merchant cannot fail to reap the reward of enterprise, in a great and growing republic; but to the industrious mechanic, manufacturer, and agriculturist, it holds forth great and improving advantages.

Deprived, as our people have been for centuries, of a right in the soil, they will learn with peculiar satisfaction, that here they can till the land, reap the harvest, and raise the flocks which are unquestionably their own: and in the full and unmolested enjoyment of their religious rights, and of every civil immunity, together with peace and plenty, they can lift up their voice in gratitude to him, who sustained our fathers in the wilderness, and brought us in triumph out of the land of Egypt; who assigned to us the safe keeping of his oracles, who proclaimed us his people, and who has ever walked before us "like a cloud by day and pillar of fire by night.";

In his name I do revive, renew, and re-establish the government of the Jewish nation, under the auspices and protection of the constitution and laws of the United States of America. Confirming and perpetuating all our rights and privileges, our name, our rank, and our power, among nations of the earth as they existed, and were recognized under the government of the Judges. And I hereby enjoin it upon all our pious and venerable rabbis, our presidents and elders of the synagogues, chiefs of colleges, and brethren in authority throughout the world, to circulate and make known this my proclamation, and to give to it full publicity, credence, and effect.

It is my will that a census of the Jews throughout the world be taken, and returns of persons, together with their age and occupation, be registered in the archives of the Synagogues where they are accustomed to worship, designating such in particular, who have been and are distinguished in the useful arts, in science, or in knowledge.

Those of our people who from age, local attachment, or from any other cause, prefer remaining in the several parts of the world which they now respectively inhabit, and who are treated with liberality by the public authorities, are permitted to do so, and are especially recommended to be faithful to the governments which protect them. It is, however, expected, that they will aid and encourage the emigration of the young and enterprising, and endeavor to send to this country such who will add to our national strength and character, by their industry, honor, and patriotism.

Those Jews who are in the military employment of the different sovereigns of Europe are enjoined to keep in their ranks until further orders, and conduct themselves with bravery and fidelity.

I command that a strict neutrality be observed in the pending war between the Greeks and the Turks, enjoined by considerations of safety towards a numerous population of Jews now under the oppressive dominion of the Ottoman Porte.

The annual gifts which, for many centuries, have been afforded to our pious brethren in our Holy City of Jerusalem, to which may God speedily restore us, are to continue with unabated liberality; our seminaries of learning and institutions of charity in every part of the world, are to be increased, in order that wisdom and virtue may permanently prevail among the chosen people.

I abolish forever Polygamy among the Jews, which, without religious warrant, still exists in Asia and Africa. I prohibit marriages or giving Keduchim without both parties are of a suitable age and can read and write the language of the country which they respectively inhabit, and which I trust will ensure to their offspring, the blessings of education and probably the lights of science.

Prayers shall forever be said in the Hebrew language, but it is recommended that occasional discourses on the principles of the Jewish faith, and the doctrines of morality generally, be delivered in the language of the country, together with such reforms, which, without departing from the ancient faith, may add greater solemnity to our worship.

The Caraite and Samaritan Jews, together with the black Jews of India and Africa, and likewise those in Cochin China, and the sect on the coast of Malabar, are entitled to an equality of rights and religious privileges, as are all who may partake of the great covenant, and obey and respect the Mosaical Laws.

The Indians of the American Continent, in their admitted Asiatic origin, in their worship of one God, in their dialect and language, in their sacrifices, marriages, divorces, burials, fastings, purifications, punishments, cities of refuge, division of tribes, in their High Priest, and in their wars and in their victories, being, in all probability, the descendants of the lost tribes of Israel, which were carried captive by the King of Assyria, measures will be adopted to make them sensible of their origin, to cultivate their minds, soften their condition, and finally re-unite them with their brethren the chosen people.

A capitation tax of three shekels in silver per annum, or one Spanish dollar, is hereby levied upon each Jew throughout the world, to be collected by the Treasurers of the different congregations, for the purpose of defraying the various expenses of re-organising the government, of aiding emigrants in the purchase of agricultural instruments, providing for their immediate wants & comforts, and assisting their families in making their first settlements, together with such free-will offerings as may be generously made in the furtherance of the laudable objects connected with the restoration of the people and the glory of the Jewish nation. A Judge of Israel shall be chosen once in every four years by the Consistory at Paris, at which time Proxies from every congregation shall be received.

I do hereby name as commissioners, the most learned and pious Abraham de Cologna, Knight of the Iron Crown of Lombardy, Grand Rabbi of the Jews and President of the Consistory of Paris, likewise the Grand Rabbi Androde of Bordeaux, and also our estimable Grand Rabbis of the German and Portugal Jews, in London Rabbis Herschell and Mendoza, together with the Hon. Aaron Nunez Cardoza of Gibraltar, Abraham Busaac, Esq. of Leghorn, Benjamin Gradis of Bourdeaux, Dr. E. Gans and Professor Zuntz of Berlin, and Dr. Leo Woolf of Hamburgh, to aid and insist in carrying into effect the provisions of this my proclamation, with powers to appoint the necessary agents in the several parts of the world, and to establish emigrating societies in order that the Jews may be concentrated and capacitated to act as a distinct body, having at the head of each kingdom or republic such presiding officers as I shall, upon their recommendation, appoint.—Instructions to these my commissioners shall be forthwith transmitted. And a more enlarged and general view of the plan, motives, and objects, will be detailed in the address to the nation. The Consistory of Paris is hereby authorized and empowered to name three discreet persons, of competent abilities, to visit the United States, and make such report to the nation as the actual condition of this country and its state shall warrant.

I do appoint Roshodes Adar, Feb. 7, 1826, to be observed with suitable demonstrations as a day of Thanksgiving to the Lord God of Israel, for the manifold blessings and the signal protection which he has deigned to extend to his people, and in order that on that occasion our prayers may be offered for the continuance of his divine mercy, and the fulfilment of all the promises and pledges made to the race of Jacob.

I recommend peace and union among us, charity and good will to all, toleration and liberality to our brethren of every religious denomination, enjoined by the mild and just precepts of our holy religion. Honor and good faith in the fulfilment of all our contracts, together with temperance, economy, and industry in our habits.

I entreat to be remembered in your prayers, and lastly and most earnestly, I do enjoin you to "Keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes and his commandments, and his judgment, and his testimonies, as it is written in the Laws of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all thou doest, and whithersoever thou turnest thyself."

Given at Buffalo, in the state of New York, this second day of Tisri, in the year of the world 5586, corresponding with the fifteenth day of September, 1825, and in the fiftieth year of American Independence.

By the Judge,
A. B. SEIXAS. Sec'y pro tem.

The ceremony of the foundation of Ararat is too amusing an article to be omitted. Who appointed Major Noah (Editor of the N. Y. National Advocate) the Chief Governor of the Jews?—Who has given him the power of proclaiming to the most distant tribes the laws by which they are to be governed? commanding them to stay or remove, to be taxed, &c. &c.? Or has he assumed this power upon himself? It seems to us, at the first blush of the subject, as one of the most outre, self authoritative, and ridiculous papers we have ever perused.

We wonder how any man of sense, much less of Mr. Noah's talents, should have sufferred himself to be betrayed into such an effusion. It is more extraordinary even than Fry's scheme for evangelizing the Jews.

All the Jews in the U. States, put together, constitute a very small proportion of the race in the world. Perhaps their whole number does not exceed 50,000—and on the whole Earth, there may be six millions. How would it look even for a Sanhedrim of all the Jews in the United States to put forth such a decree as we have before us? But, for a few of them—at most, perhaps, not a thousand—it may be less than 100—to undertake to constitute one man the "Governor and Judge of Israel," in the mimic style of a King "by the Grace of God" too; that this one man should undertake to issue a formal proclamation, calling for a census of the nation, imposing a capitation tax of one dollar upon each Jew throughout the world, assuming the authority of appointing the presiding officers of the nation in all the Kingdoms and Republics of the earth—why it beggars all commentary.

We open our arms to welcome the Jews. Come from what quarter they may, they are welcome. Let them bring hither their virtues, their genius, their wealth, they will find here an asylum, and under the wing of a free constitution, full and free protection. They may sit here under their own fig tree; and none to make them afraid. The general toleration of their religion—no oppressive taxes—no unjust exactions—Come and they are welcome.—Rich. Enq.

City of Refuge.—The New York Commercial Advertiser, speaking of Mr. Noah's late proclamation and speech to the Jews, says:—"But whatever may be our own impressions, (and from frequent conversations with Mr. Noah upon the subject, we have always considered him rational and sincere, until the publication of these papers,) it is certain that the Jews of this city disclaim the enterprise; while the general impression of our citizens is, that it has all been got up as a hoax. Indeed when the document was first published, it was believed to be a fabrication from some of the wags of the west. Our table is covered with communications, some seriously condemning, and others lampooning the whole affair. There are others, moreover, who regard the proclamation as a wicked, if not blasphemous, production."

Advertisement.—Wanted, a convenient apartment in the Lunatic Asylum, for "a Citizen of the United States, late Consul at Tunis, High Sheriff of the State of New York, Judge in Israel," &c. &c. &c. &c. who is expected soon in town, to take up his lodgings in that or some similar institution.—N. B. It may be sometimes desired to hold an occasional caucus in the apartment.—N. Y. Amer.

We are sorry to find from the subjoined paragraph, that sickness has again assailed the infant colony of free blacks at Mesurado:

A letter from Mr. Hodges, the United States' Consul at the Cape de Verd Islands, to the Editor of the New Bedford Mercury, states that it was very sickly at Sierre Leone, and that many of the Europeans were leaving. The American colony at Cape Mesurado was also said to be in a deplorable state; many of the colonists sick, and Mr. Ashman, the Agent, dangerously ill of a fever. Mr. W. H. Mortimer, of Philadelphia, died at Sierre Leone June 14.

The Bogota Constitutional of July, speaking on the subject of the general election which was soon to take place in Colombia, predicts that in respect to the choice of president there will be perfect unanimity from one end of Colombia to the other. It states that it never seems to have entered into the mind of any one that any other than the Liberator, Bolivar, could be chosen, but that in regard to vice president there is more difficulty. There are several candidates for this office.

The Journal des Debats, in recording the honorable fact to the Bavarian government, that the fortieth part of its annual receipts is appropriated to the public instruction of its subjects, notices the contrast presented in Piedmont, nominally under Sardinia, but, in truth, under Austrian control, as attested by the annexed article from a paper called le Narrateur de Saint-Gall:

"The Germans removing to Piedmont need not carry their classics with them. Goethe, Wieland, and Schiller, have been seized as dangerous books. A late royal decree forbids all those who do not possess a fortune of 1500 francs per annum ($300,) to learn to read or write, and, indeed, prohibits studies of all sorts to all who cannot prove that they have this revenue of $300."

The New Jersey Bleaching, Printing and Dyeing Company, incorporated by the legislature of that state, are erecting a building at Belleville 262 feet front, of hewn stone, and three stories high—probably the largest building in the state.—This factory is designed for bleaching, printing and dyeing Cotton, Woollen and Silk Goods, on an extensive scale.

Rapid Travelling.—The rapidity of travelling in the United States, and the means of public conveyance, have so increased within a few years as to become a matter of astonishment. A friend informs that a gentleman, now in Troy, travelled from Erie, a distance of 390 miles, in 79 hours, and was detained by business at Buffalo and Canandaigua from 2 to 3 hours; this is about 130 miles a day. Another gentleman arrived at the same time, in 10 days from the Falls of St. Mary, which are a little this side of Mackinaw. He was detained 2 days at Detroit and 4 hours at Utica; leaving 7 days and 20 hours to travel about 1100 miles, which is near 140 miles a day. Such are the signs of prosperity in a land of freedom. No wonder the country grows and strengthens so fast, when every part enjoys such easy intercourse with all the rest.

Troy N. Y. Sentinel.

The Vine.—Dr. Henderson, of London, has published a work in which he maintains that Persia and N. America are the only two countries where the grape has been found indigenous. There have been made various attempts to cultivate the vine in this country; as we have a sun ranging through all the varieties of climate, a New York editor flatters himself that "it will require only a little of our usual enterprize to have American Champaigne sparkling on our tables, or American Burgundy lighting the glow of fancy and wit in our bon vivants."

Kingly kindness.—Certain members of the Protestant Consistory of Paris, lately had an audience with the king. He manifested a tolerant spirit, and promised that the rights guaranteed by the charter should be kept inviolate—after which he observed—it was his duty to tell them, that they COULD not be saved!—A very comfortable assurance this, and there is a king's word for it!

Washington, September 27.

The Arethusa arrived at Baltimore, on Saturday, from Lima. She has made the passage from St. Salvador, in 38 days, and brings information that Lord Cochrane had been ordered by the Emperor of Brazil to repair to Rio, but declined the honor of obeying his master, shipped a quantity of cotton to Maranham, and made his escape in a frigate. In consequence of this conduct, the Emperor had struck his name from the Brazilian navy, and deprived him of his newly acquired titles, such as the Marquis of Maranham, &c. &c. and appointed Commodore Jewett, who is a native of New London, Connecticut, Admiral of the fleet.

Sir Charles Stewart, Minister from Great Britain, last from Lisbon, arrived at Rio in the latter part of July, but nothing had transpired respecting his mission.

The Arethusa left at Lima the U. S. ships United States, Commodore Hull, and Peacock, Lieutenant Commandant Kennon. The schooner Dolphin, Lieutenant Commandant Percival, sailed two days before for Valparaiso: officers and crew all well.

Petersburg, Sept. 27.

Cotton, Tobacco, and Corn.—Cotton, of neighborhood growth, is now daily brought to Market in small parcels.—The crop has turned out well, the article proves of the best quality, and commands readily from 14½ to 16 cents. We are informed that thus far, it has been purchased for and on account of Northern Manufacturers; most of whom, we believe, have uniformly given the preference to Petersburg Cotton.

The Crop of Tobacco in this section is considered generally as rather better than ordinary, as well with respect to quality, as the quantity produced: But we hear with much regret, that the fields of Corn have greatly disappointed expectation, the ears being indifferently filled, and yielding but a sorry recompense for the labors of the husbandman.—Int.

Richmond, Sept. 30.

The new Crop of Cotton.—The first new cotton made its appearance in our market this week, and was sold for 17½ cents; though this price is paid now, it cannot be supposed to be worth any thing like this price for exportation. All of the cotton of good quality brought to market in this and the next month, will be wanting for the home trade, and will, until the supply becomes great, command a better price than can be paid for shipments.

Camden, S. C. Sept. 24.

Cotton.—Small quantities of the above article have daily arrived, and been disposed of at 12½ a 13 cents.

Baton Rouge, Lou. Aug. 27.

We regret to have to state, that the prospect of a good crop of cotton, in this parish, is almost entirely blasted. A new enemy has made its appearance, in the form of caterpillars. Numerous and extensive cotton fields are in a general state of devastation. A gentleman, on whose veracity we place the utmost confidence, has assured us, that ten acres of cotton have been laid waste, by this obnoxious insect, in the course of forty-eight hours, this week.

From the N. Y. National Advocate, Sept. 21.

Banks.—The alarm respecting certain banks, is but the prelude to further difficulties. Who is astonished at such alarm, when it is a fact well known, that more or less of the moneyed institutions of this city, instead of remaining in the hands of the respectable and opulent portion of the community, have become the property of lawless adventurers. A man who wants money, buys up a majority of the stock of a bank; hypothecates that stock; and pays actually no more than the advance price of that stock above par, amounting to something like $4000 or 5000; and thus gets the control of the institution. The object of the enterprize is to relieve the pressing necessities of an adventurer, who has no ostensible means, and accordingly the whole resources of the bank may be absorbed by the wants of its own presiding officer. As the object of the enterprize is entirely personal, having no regard to the interests of the stockholders, how can it be expected that an intelligent community will repose confidence in the administration of an institution thus situated? And can there be a doubt, that the same motives which will induce a speculator to buy up the stock of a company, will induce him to sell out the stock? And in what situation would a bank be left, after having been prostituted to the purposes of a set of adventurers? The banks will be ruined, and the adventurer will make his fortune. It is this view of the subject which keeps up the public sensibility, in relation to the moneyed institutions of the city.

A Society has lately been organized in Baltimore, called the Anti-Slave Society, the object of which is to effect the eventual extinction of Slavery in the state of Maryland, procuring the passage of a law for its prospective abolition. The Society is of course endeavoring to procure candidates for the Legislature favorable to their views, and in Baltimore have obtained the consent of Daniel Raymond, Esq. to offer, under the pledge required by the Society, as one of the four Delegates present from that city to the Assembly. Mr. Raymond is the author of the well known work on Political Economy.

It is stated in the western papers that trunks containing the papers of General Lafayette, which were on the steam boat Mechanic, on her way from Nashville to Louisville, were discovered, and they have suffered no injury. We believe all the articles belonging to the General, which were lost, have been recovered. His watch, in the haste of quitting the cabin, when she was sinking, was left in his berth, in the birth, after the boat was righted, forwarded to him before he left Nashville. The body of his travelling carriage, from the deck of the boat, when she went down, and was picked up some days after, the wheels did not float and were lost with the boat: so that the carriage will be recovered, and was sent down the Mississippi to New Orleans: from there it has been sent to France, and will be presented to General La Fayette at La Grange as an object of interest to his family and friends, as the relics of the illustrious man, by which he performed his immortal services in the United States.—*Nat. We understand (says the National Intelligencer Press) that Captains Barron and Warrington, have been appointed Commissioners, by the Secretary of the Navy, to report upon a site for a Navy Yard, at or near Pensacola. We learn that the Commissioners will sail, in a few days, in the Hornet sloop of war. Our readers will be recollected that Congress, at the last session, appropriated $50,000 for a templated Navy Yard.

The National Journal of the 21st publishes a translation of the Treaty of amity and defensive alliance, perpetual league and confederation, entered into tween the republics of Colombia and Central America in Guatemala. By this the two republics oblige themselves to each other mutually with their forces against Spain, and all other which may exhibit a disposition to the interests and repose of either, in case whatever, to yield tribute to Spain, or to commit any other act which in any way compromise or prejudice the independence. The contracting parties bind themselves to expel all unauthorized persons from the Mosquito Coast. Provision for running the boundary line between Central America and Colombia, and assembling of a Congress of Plenipotentiaries at Panama. The treaty is stated to be an evidence of the unity of feeling and purpose, by which these nations are actuated and allied, consolidating a system of amity which promises to be permanent in its character, and perpetual in its duration.

ion for Governor of Georgia took nday last, and we shall probably returns for our next paper. From rmation we have been enabled to are induced to believe that the "Troup and Treaty" will be sus-ction at Buffalo, N. Y. which oticed in our last, has caused no ion in the Editorial ranks; some ouncing it an arrant hoax; others, among them, considering it in a s light; while others very cau- ined from expressing any opinion, r evidence could be had of genu- d of the sanity of the "Governor f Israel." Though considering nation (which will be found in this paper) a very extraordinary document, we all along believed it to be a genuine production of Major Noah, and so it proves to be; some of the Northern editors, however, affirming that he is mad. The point that puzzled us most was, who constituted the Major "Governor and Judge?" And an hour's search for a precedent left us as much in the dark as ever. We could find no authority for his self-appointment, and had never heard of an election by his brethren. In a long speech, however, delivered by the Governor and Judge on the occasion, (and from which we mean next week to extract a few of the most interesting parts,) we were happily relieved from this embarrassment. Here is his explanation:

In selecting from the primitive, the judicial, the regal and sacerdotal governments, a form best adapted to the times, and also to the condition of the Jewish people, I have deemed it expedient to re-organize the nation under the direction of the Judges.

The authority of the Judges extended to all religious, military, and civil concerns; they were absolute and independent like the Kings of Israel and Judah, without the ensigns of sovereignty. The Judges were immediately from the people, mingling in their deliberations, directing their energies, commanding their armies, and executing their laws. The office, which was not hereditary, conforms, in some respect, to that of Chief Magistrate, and is in accordance with the genius and disposition of the people of this country.

It is difficult at this period to decide with certainty on the manner and forms adopted in choosing the Judges of Israel. Most of the distinguished men who had filled that station were "raised up by divine influence." Their skill in war, and wisdom in peace, their valor and experience, their capacity to govern, and incidental and necessary qualifications calculated to excite public confidence, were passports to office.

Dispersed as the nation now is, and no possibility of concentrating the general voice, there can be no just power to grant; no right to withhold; the office must be assumed by divine permission, and the power exercised by general consent and approbation. He who assumes this power, who takes the lead in the great work of regeneration and judges righteously, will always be sustained by public opinion. By that test I wish to be judged.

Born in a free country, and educated with liberal principles, familiar with all the duties of government, having enjoyed the confidence of my fellow-citizens in various public trusts, ardently attached to the principles of our holy faith, and having devoted years of labor and study to ameliorate the condition of the Jews, with an unsullied conscience and a firm reliance on Almighty God, I offer myself as an humble instrument of his divine will, and solicit the confidence and protection of our beloved brethren throughout the world. If there be any person possessing greater facilities and a more ardent zeal in attempting to restore the Jews to their rights as a sovereign and independent people, to such will I cheerfully surrender the trust.

Late European Intelligence.—The elegant packet ship Leeds, Captain Stoddard, arrived at New York on the 28th, from Liverpool, whence she sailed on the 24th August. By this arrival, the editors of the Commercial Advertiser have received their regular files of London and Provincial papers, the former to the evening of the 22d Aug. inclusive.

The letters give gloomy accounts of the state of the Cotton Market, and announce that another respectable house, extensively engaged in that trade, had stopped payment. Some of the letters mention the failure of a fifth house in the same line, but of less importance—and a letter from London of the 22d, states that a Cotton Broker in that city had suspended payment.

These circumstances, added to the great supplies that had arrived, had paralyzed the market for a time, and a further decline in price had taken place. Uplands and Alabamas are quoted at 7¾ to 11d; Orleans, 8½ to 15d. Turpentine, best, 10s 6d; Tar, 16s a 17s; Car. Rice, Bark, Ashes, steady, the two last rather improving.—A letter says, "Tobacco is up to a dangerous price."

The accounts from Greece received by the above arrival, are various, but not entirely satisfactory. For the most part they give favorable statements for the cause of the Greeks.

The most important and gratifying intelligence is, that the Greek Committee of London has agreed with Lord Cochrane to place a large sum of money in his hands, to be expended as he may think proper, in furtherance of the cause; and that his Lordship will provide himself with a naval force and proceed to the aid of the Greeks. It is also said that a military force of 3500 men is to be procured and placed under the command of Sir Robert Wilson, to be employed in concert with Lord Cochrane.

At a meeting of the President and Directors of the State Bank of North Carolina, on Tuesday last, a letter from Gen. Iredell was laid before the Board, resigning the Presidency of the Branch Bank at Edenton; which being read and accepted, Samuel Tredwell was unanimously elected.

Neat Toast.—At a dinner given during the last week to Gov. Schultz at Philadelphia, the following was the last toast pledged:

POETRY.

From "Fanny," a Poem.

Away—o'er the wave to the home we are seeking,
Bark of my hope! ere the evening be gone;
There's a wild, wild note in the curlew's shrieking;
There's a whisper of death in the wind's low moan.

Though blue and bright are the heavens above me,
And the stars are asleep on the quiet sea;
And hearts I love, and hearts that love me,
Are beating beside me merrily.

Yet—far in the west, where the day's faded roses,
Touch'd by the moon beam, are withering fast;
Where the half-seen spirit of twilight reposes,
Hymning the dirge of the hours that are past.

There, where the ocean-wave sparkles at meeting
(As sunset dreams tells us) the kiss of the sky,
On his dim, dark cloud is the infant storm sitting,
And beneath the horizon his lightnings are nigh.

Another hour—and the death-word is given,
Another hour—and his lightnings are here;
Speed! speed thee, my bark; ere the breeze of even
Is lost in the tempest, our home will be near.

Then away o'er the wave, while thy pennant is streaming
In the shadowy light, like a shooting star;
Be swift as the thought of the wanderer, dreaming,
In a stranger land, of his fire-side afar.

And while memory lingers I'll fondly believe thee
A being with life and its best feelings warm;
And freely the wild song of gratitude weave thee,
Blest spirit! that bore me and mine from the storm.

Fayetteville Academy.

A PRINCIPAL TEACHER is wanted in this institution, well qualified to instruct youths of both sexes in all the branches of an English and Classical Education, and to prepare young men for entrance into the Junior Class of any College in the Union. His moral character, and qualifications for teaching the Greek and Latin Classics, must be undoubted.

It is the design of the Trustees to contract with a Gentleman who will take upon himself the sole management and responsibility of the School, comprehending both departments, Male and Female, supply the same with Teachers of his own choice, and furnish every other necessary; in consideration of which he will be entitled to regulate the price of tuition, and to receive all the emoluments derived from it.

This plan is recommended by the experience, that salary employments do not stimulate to that industry and zeal, which are necessary to the successful progress and reputation of a large School, and has its foundation in that principle of self love, which prompts the exertions most where interest lies, by identifying the interest of the Teacher with the character of the School, thus affording to the public the surest guaranty of having their children faithfully taught.

The Academy lot and buildings are situated in a very pleasant part of the town, on one of the principal streets, and in the neighbourhood of the Episcopal and Presbyterian Churches. The lot is large, and well shaded in the front yard, which communicates with the street over a stile. The main building and wing are three stories high, with a double Portico in front, and is surmounted with a beautiful Belfry—the length and breadth of the main building is about 65 by 45 feet, divided into large apartments, separated by large halls or passages through the centre.

They are sufficiently capacious to accommodate a School of 200 scholars and a family, and the lot is supplied from a Hydrant in the front yard with good and wholesome water.

Few prospects can be more inviting than the present, to a married gentleman with a family, qualified to assist in the School, or capable of taking boarders, (and such a person the Trustees would greatly prefer,) for it combines the advantages of two-fold profits, to be derived from teaching and boarding children from abroad. And when it is known that this Academy is situated in a town with a population of 3600 souls, and that there is no Academy within 60 miles of it, in which the higher branches of learning are taught, the striking advantages of this offer cannot fail to make a strong appeal to the interest and enterprise of the first talents in the country devoted from necessity to the vocations of literature.

The Trustees will lease the buildings, lot, &c. from the first day of January next; (when the present lease expires) for one year; after which they will extend the term to any number of years the contracting parties can agree upon.

Letters, post paid, may be addressed to the subscribers at this place.
